HONGKONG, WEDNESDAY, MAY 14, 1890.

THE report of Commissioner Happer outli trade of Mengizu shows that the French possession of the Red River routs to You nan and Western China. The natural advantages of the route over all existing trade Aires in order to sell French proce to sere unforestroy to a discommendation of United The police of the Paris of the Control of th the best not succeeded in doing this and there is not much hope of her doing so n the future. The trade of Mangisu since t was opened, about 12 months ago, to the oud of last year is valued at Hk. Tis. Noon .- Parthia leaves for Vancouver 183,005; and of this Hongkong's share was Tie, 143,244-78 per cont. of the whole. Our share of the exports is naturally larger than our share of the imports. The native produce experted amounted to Tis. 88,000. and of this Ils. 72,044 went to Hougkong. The French, in order to counteract the restric ive influence of the protective di les on foreign goods, other than Frenci, are doing all they can to encourage Chinese oxports which are permitted to pass practically free of duty scross Tonkin. But the very fact of the expert trade being mainly with Hongkong, gives this Colony an important advantage as regards imports. The Chinese merchants in Yunnan naturally seek payment for their exports to this Colony in foreign goods purchased here; and, in spite of the duties against us in funkin, of the value of foreign goods imported into Younan cia Mengizu, which was Uls. 62,300, Hongkong's share was Tis. 37,895-more than 60%, the balance of the imports being from Tonkin, the most of which we may suppose were French goods. Of course if the French would remove their. and bottled by ourselves, thus enabling us coties, a very large trade would soon the 15th Instant, with Mails for to supply the best growths at moderate spring-up. But this is a step which they are not likely to take. The tendency in Paris state the name and quantity of Wine or is just now altogether in the opposite di-Spirit wanted, and initial letter for quality rection. The new Chamber of Deputies is rabidly protectionist. They will scon, however, discover that any attempt to place prohibitive duties on foreign goods will greatly impede if it does not stop altogether the development of the Red River trade: 210 $1.00 The inhabitants of Yunnan won't buy French goods they don't want, and if they find they cannot get goods from Hongkong in return for their experts, the result will be both to raise the price of these exports and to diminish their volume. The French, how-1.50 ever, will most probably choose to learn this lesson by bitter experience.

THE bulky Magistrates' Bill is making but small progress in the Legislative Council. 1.00 So great is the want of interest in the measure that it was impossible on Monday to 1.00 obtain a quorum to continue the discussion in committee. The fault does not altogether lie with the unofficial members who did not attend. After the Bill was read a accord time it was referred to a 1.25 Special Committee. One would think Per Case, Per Case, that this committee would have minutely examined every clause in the Bill and would have drawn up a list of all the amendments they thought necessary. There would then have remained for the Council nothing but ___ 7.50 to hear the sections read over, the amend-. . 11 12.00 ments being put and carried without Case. Per Bot. discussion, unless any member had specia. points to raise. The committee, however seem to have done their work in a rather perfunctory manner, A report setting forth prepared, but the details of the measure do not appear to have been closely examined. The result is that the whole Council is condemued to do the work which the special committee ought to have done. We can easily conceive that, to an unofficial member, it must be somewhat tedious to listen to the Attorney General explaining the law in England and in various Colonies with regard to the keeping of Police Court schedules, or to follow a half are hour a disquasion between Mr Deane and the Attorney General about the bust place to keep a prisoner awaiting trial All these are mat ters that ought to have been sattled by the committee, leaving for the Council only the vital matters of principal, if there are any such, about which there is or may be a difference of opinion. The Council is not yet half through with the 10 1.00 Bill, and, as Mr. Lister is sick some of the unofficials will have to sacrifice themselves if progress is to be made. Under these circumstances it might be well if the Attorney General would discuss the disputed points with Mr Deans or any biliers interested before the Douncil meettog, sud have his proposus on and dry so that time might not be wasted in long. winded explanations and words discussions.

The telegram announcing that a question had been put in the House of Commons with regard to Sunday isbour in the har-Caracoa Hearing's Cherry Cordial cours of Hougkong and Singapore has no doubt given pleasure to those who have long advocated a restriction of this unmed cessary labour. An ordinance is the only means by which the desired end can be obtained. We have so often pointed out that there is no more difficulty in enforcing a reasonable restriction in Hongkong than there is in the Treaty Ports of China, that we need not travel over the ground again. The objections that have been raised have been mainly wide of the issue, being directed towards proving that the general enforcement of Sunday shore was inadvisable in place like Hongkong, which everybody admits, or that this general enforcement must follow as a corollary from forbidding labour in the harbour, which is absurd. We hope, now that the people at Home have become interested in the matter, the Secretary of State will be duced to take some decisive action, He has promised to consult the Governors of the two colonies. The opinions he receives from them will be of somewhat divergent character. Governor Des Vœur is, as we well know, opposed to any interference. On the other hand, Sir C. C. Smith is strongly in favour of enforcing the stoppage of Sunday labour in the barbour. It is to hoped that the views of the latter will prevail with Lord Knutsford; and they are, we should think, likely to do so, unless the snatchers with a very wholesume dread Governor Des Vœux has discovered better reasons against the change than those he put forward in the strange minute he pen- for some distance jumps. into the harbour ned here. THE OPENING OF CHUNG KING, Mr. Archibald Little writes to The Times as follows :-

Sir, In reference to the interesting article which appears in your issue this mor ning upon the elevation of Churg king to the rank and privileges of a treaty port; our pioneer steamer to the Chinese Government can hardly be regarded as a compremise as far as the Chefoo Convention generally is concerned. In buying our steamer, which they did absolutely without any conditions attached, the Chinese simply relieved themselves from the immediate pressure of our demand to run, which backed as it was by our Foreign Office. was becoming inconveniently urgent. But seeing that our Minister in China continued to be baffl d by Chinese imperturbab lity and that af er three years' active negotial tion the matter (much as in the Tibetair difficulty) had at length arrived at an absolute impasse, our Foreign Office considered that with the steamer out of the way, negotiations would proceed more free. ly; and we see the result in the new convention of which you have just given us the news. The Chinese opened the port of Chung-king at once, without waiting for and Germany be requested to present the the navigability of the Upper Yangisse by steam to be proved, which it was bound to b as a 'condition precident' under the terms of the original convention; and, on the other hand, the demand for immediate permission for stonmers to run has been waived. In any case, it is satisfactory to know that a twentieth port has been added to the nineteen already open, and that in the richest and one of the most interesting regions in China. That, after fourteen years' interval, the clause in the Chefou Convention regarding the opening of Changking no longer remains a dead-letter is mainly due to the attempt of the Upper Yangieze Steam Navigation Company to give it concrete form by building the steamer they have since reluctantly been

At the request of Dr. Bramwell, Mr Bendolack Hewetson was emabled, while the patient was in the hypnotic state, to catraot each tonsil with ease, the girl, by suggestion of the hypnotiser, obeying every request of the operator, though in a state of perfect ancesthesia. In the same way Mr Hewetson removed a cyst of the size of a horse been from the side of the nose of young woman who was perfectly angesthetic breathing deeply, and who, on coming round by order, protested that the operation had not been commenced." Mr Turner then extracted two large molar treth from a man with equal success; ofter which Dr. Bramwell explained how his patient had been completely cured of drankenness by hypnotic suggestion. To prove this to those present, and to show the interesting psychological results, the man was hypnotized, and in that state he was shown a glass of water, which he was told by Dr. Bramwell was bad beer. He was then told to awake, and the glass of water (so-called bad beer) was offered him by Dr. Bramwoll. ELECTRICITY IN NEW YORK We learn from a contemporary that the Senate Committee on General Live, to which was entrusted the duly of inquiring into the recent deaths from electricity in New York, have presented a report which may not be altogether devoid of interest on this side of the Atlantic. The committee find that during the past three years no less than 16 persons have lost their lives in New York from electrical corrents, and they give it as their opinion that the causes for most of these deaths appear to have been carelessness on the part of the companies in using poorly insulated or badly arr nged conductors, and in neglecting ther precautions required for safety. The remedy for the evil lies, in the opinion of the committee, in the speedy burial of all the elect ic light and power conductors in New York city, and other cities having a population of 25,000 or more; and they recommend that efter Jan. 1, 1892, no overhead conductors should be allowed in any highway, a reet, or public place, in any city over a certain population, and, further, that no electric light or power current of ver 200 volts should be allowed to enter any building. - The Insurance Obio very
